Update From DSS

Procurement Process

- Access Health Analytics (AHA) released a RFP to solicit proposals from Data Analytics vendors for implementation of an All-Payer Claims Database project on Jan. 27, 2014
- Prospective vendors were given one month period to respond (deadline of Feb. 28)
- Vendors were given an opportunity to ask questions by Feb. 9; 216 questions were received and answered by Feb. 14
- Vendor's Intent to Bid was set at Feb. 14 – 16 vendors expressed interest to submit bids
- By the deadline (Feb. 28), only 10 vendors submitted proposals
- Only 5 vendors met the criteria to be eligible for appraisal
- Top 3 were invited for Oral presentation; one could not come due to internal logistics
- Finalist was notified on March 31st, semi-finalist is on a holding pattern
- Contract work started immediately; current status is still on progress

Newly Proposed Data Submission Timeline

Update on Focus Group Findings

- Conducted a focus group discussion on the topic of cost transparency on May 20th
- We set up two groups but were unable to have the second group at the appointed time & place
- The group we had discussions with had the following characteristics:
 - 7 people - 5 males, 2 females
 - 5 Whites/Caucasians, 2 African Americans
 - 5 from suburbs, 2 from Hartford
 - 3 from Medicaid, 4 from Commercial plans
- Focus of the questions were qualitative rather than quantitative on this topic

Topics on Cost Transparency

- Willingness of focus group members to shop on costs & quality
- How is shopping influenced by:
 - Source of information
 - Distance
 - Quality uncertainty
 - Types of services
 - Uncertainty about benefits – deductibles, network
 - Ease of use / understanding of information reported
 - Sensitivity to costs of services
 - Trusts in quality rating authorities
 - Trusts in State APCD

Highlights of Responses

- Generally members, even in Medicaid, are willing to use shopping tools to understand variations in costs
- Willingness and intensity of shopping around for costs are influenced by the following:
 - Familiarity to search for such information on the web or other sources
 - Richness of benefit plan has an opposite effect on search behavior
 - Quality uncertainty is also an important factor against shopping behavior
 - Serious and complicated surgery/condition has a negative impact on search behavior
 - Higher variations in costs have a positive impact on search behavior
 - Source(s) of quality rating, particularly consumer review is more important

Highlights of Responses

- Generally positive response received about the shopping intent if such information is credible and easily available
- The respondents were very comfortable about interpreting numbers (reflecting various quality measures) of moderate size, say 3-4 rows and 3-4 columns
- Large tables with numbers are deemed too complex; symbols are more helpful to the respondents
- Most of the respondents have little knowledge about quality ratings and of the institutions reporting it. They feel more comfortable using patient reviews to rate providers
- They mentioned that they'll use APCD if the information is presented very easily, which means they need to get the information with minimal time on the web, say 5 minutes or less

Status of SIM Project and APCD Collaboration

- Background – project description, funding, etc.
- Operational requirement for SIM
- Data requirements – Medicaid, Commercial and Medicare
- Level of data analysis – enabling legislation may be required
- Edge serve technology to link Medicaid data with APCD data
- Funding opportunity to support SIM via APCD

Status of Subcommittees

Data Privacy & Security Subcommittee

– Dr. Robert Scalettar

Policy & Procedures Enhancement Subcommittee

– Matt Katz
